

With over 18 enriching years in Reno/Sparks' real estate landscape, I am Lynne King. My initiation into this dynamic industry began in 2005, working alongside a commercial appraiser. While the intricacies of real estate captivated me, my heart yearned for more interpersonal interactions. The economic recession presented challenges, but I navigated it successfully, even transitioning as a buyer's agent for the Reno Housing Authority, striving to anchor neighborhoods during those turbulent times.

Being an agent for me isn't just about transactions; it's about problem-solving, ensuring all involved parties journey smoothly to the deal's closure. Over the years, I've been honored to be part of the Professional Standards Committee, enriching my professional portfolio further.

Reno/Sparks has been my home for 29 fulfilling years. Life at home is bustling and vibrant, with my five wonderful children, whose ages span from the tender 2.5 years to a mature 26. Beyond the realm of real estate, I immerse myself in community endeavors, fervently advocating for the progressive and healthy expansion of both Reno and Sparks. With all these experiences, I am excited to delve deeper into our association's leadership, aspiring to contribute more to the community I cherish
